Wave 9 Technical Advisory Groups (TAGs) - Call for Nominations

The Tennessee Health Care Innovation Initiative is seeking nominees for clinical experts to advise on the design of Wave 9 episodes of care.

The next two episodes of care to be designed and implemented in Tennessee will focus on Urology.

The episodes include:

- Kidney and Urinary Tract Stones
- Cystourethroscopy

Urology TAG
Episodes Included	TAG Member Specialties	TAG Schedule
1. Kidney and Urinary Tract Stones 2. Cystourethroscopy	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Emergency Medicine providers • Urologists • Pediatric Urologists • Pediatricians • Family Practice or Primary Care Providers • General Surgeons (experience with cystoscopy, kidney stones) • Interventional Radiologists (experience with kidney Stones) • Urogynecologists (experience with cystoscopy) • Nephrologists 	Tuesday, March 13, 2018 [12:30 - 3:30 pm CT] Tuesday, March 27, 2018 [12:30 - 3:30 pm CT] Tuesday, April 10, 2018 [12:30 - 3:30 pm CT]

Wave 9 TAGs - Call for Nominations

For each nominee, please provide the following information. All nominations are due to payment.reform@tn.gov by Monday, February 12, 2018.

Nominator Name & Contact (please specify if this is a self-nomination):

Nominee Name:

Nominee Email address:

Nominee Phone number:

Nominee Specialty and Subspecialty:

Practice Location (City):

Practice Name/Facility affiliation:

A brief description of why the nominee should be selected as a TAG member:

Clinicians can nominate themselves. Nominees are not required to be familiar with episodes of care.

TAGs are the start of a process to design episodes of care. Preview reports for wave 9 episodes will be available for providers in mid-2019. We appreciate the participation of Tennessee clinical experts to serve as volunteers for episodes of care. We look forward to receiving your nominations!

Wave 9 TAGs: Nominee Responsibilities

Please nominate clinical experts in Tennessee to join a Technical Advisory Group (TAG) to provide clinical advice on episode topics including:

- The patient journey and care pathways
- The 5 design dimensions of the episode, including the definition of the principle accountable provider (or quarterback) and quality metrics.
- Any aspects of care delivery unique to Tennessee

We are looking for clinicians in the relevant specialties who are thought leaders in their fields, representative of practicing providers, enthusiastic about improving care delivery, and available to attend all TAG meetings (for the topic they are nominated) in Nashville at the times listed.

Reimbursement is available for travel costs.
